Bay High To Host Sub-Dist. Tourney

The Class A-AA Sub-District Tournament will open Tuesday night, February 6, in the Bay High gym. Play will continue nightly through Saturday night, February 10, with consolation games slated for Saturday afternoon and the finals set for that night. This year's tournament will be the largest ever, with all the Big Eight schools taking part for the first time and several other schools moving into the higher classification due to increased enrollments. Altogether, fifteen boys teams and eight girls teams will see action in the mammoth affair which begins the elimination of teams, striving to advance toward the state play-offs.

Pairings were drawn up at the recent district meeting held at Wiggins and Hancock North Central received the top spot in the seedings. Biloxi was placed second with Harrison Central and Gulfport getting the third and fourth slots. Other teams being seeded were St. Stanislaus, Piquette, Ocean Springs, and Bay High in that order. Teams who will be trying to knock off the seeded teams in first round play are D'Iberville, Moss Point, Long Beach, Pass Christian, Pearl River Central, Pascagoula and Perkinston. Hancock North Central received a first round bye.

In the girls' division, Pearl River Central was placed in the top spot, having lost only one game this year. Pass Christian, Harrison Central, and Perkinston were the other sextets receiving seeded positions. Other girls' teams taking part are D'Iberville, Ocean Springs, Hancock North Central, and Bay High.

Looking over the results of the recent Bay High Invitational Tournament, in which a majority of these teams took part, all indications are that games will be very hotly contested throughout the entire tournament.

Five games are on tap each evening Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday with first round play and boy quarterfinals being completed these three nights. Games will begin at 5:00 p.m. The semifinals will be played Friday night beginning at 2:00 Saturday afternoon and finals at 7:30 Saturday night. Four teams in each division will advance to the District Tournament the following week. This sub-district has gained in stature in recent years with Hancock North Central winning the over-all state championship year before last and North Central advancing from this tourney to the state play-off last year. Gulfport was also a state winner last year, having won the over-all Big Eight championship.

Bay High School officials and officials of the recent Tournament at Bay High wish to commend the attending public for their sportsmanship during the games, and hope for a continuance of same during the Sub-district tournament.

TWO TRUCKS AND AUTO COLLIDE IN FOG; NO INJURIES

No injuries were reported when two trucks and an automobile collided in a heavy fog about 4:20 a.m. Thursday on U. S. Highway 90 in Gulfport. Driver of the automobile involved was Andrew J. Ramage of this city; the truck and trailer was operated by Samuel Lindsey Gibbs of Prichard, Ala., and driver of the other truck was Don Rudolph Pridden of Mobile.

According to investigating officers, the accident apparently occurred when the truck and trailer struck the neutral ground near the Heaves Avenue junction.

All three vehicles were east-bound on the highway at the time of the accident, officers said. The vehicles collided daisy-chain fashion after Gibbs struck the neutral ground and jack-knifed investigating officers, Capt. Craig Monroe and Ptn. Kermit Patton of the Gulfport police department and Ptn. T. P. Naylor of the Mississippi Highway Patrols Gulfport sub-station reported.

ARREST MAN FOR PASSING WORTHLESS CHECKS HERE

A Franklinton, La. man, identified by Deputy Sheriff Gerald Price as Wilton Sumrall, was apprehended in Bogalusa Monday, Price said, on a charge of obtaining cattle under false pretenses. The man, Price added, is also wanted on a similar charge in Pearl River and Harrison Counties.

Price said his office is waiting to hear from District Attorney Boyce Holleman regarding extradition papers for Sumrall's return to Hancock County.

DABNEY IS ROTARY SPEAKER

J. C. Dabney, Gulfport Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph group manager, was guest speaker at Bay Rotary luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Dabney told the group the Bay St. Louis and Waveland area will probably have direct long distance dialing within the next six months.

An illustration of its use, over a special hook-up to Gulfport was given with one of the Rotary members dialing Canada and another Chicago.

Only prepaid station-to-station calls, Mr. Dabney added, will be handled by direct dialing, while others will be placed through the operator as is being done now.

The procedure of direct dialing will be to first dial the number One; next the area code and then the number wanted. Dialing of the code number in Mississippi, where the number is 1, is a new concept.

AAA Removes "Traffic Trap" Listing From Bay St. Louis

The efforts of Mayor John Scalfie and Sheriff Gerald Price has resulted in the lifting of the AAA label of "Traffic Trap" from Bay St. Louis.

These officials, meeting recently with the State Manager of the Mississippi Auto Club, AAA, convinced the motoring organization that the law enforcement officials of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County would deal courteously and efficiently with traffic offenders, reserving the right to strict enforcement of the laws in the interest of safety.

G. D. Beard, manager of the AAA Club, said, "I am happy to request a lifting of this listing by our National Headquarters. The officials and citizens of Bay St. Louis have our full support in their efforts to reduce the accident and death rate on their highways. I am convinced of the sincerity of Mayor Scalfie and Sheriff Price and we certainly will give them our support."

$50,000 Fire Destroys C & S Grocery Store

A fire Sunday night destroyed a building and threatened two others before the fire was extinguished.

The building gutted by fire housed the C and S grocery owned by Charles Carter, who was also co-owner of the building with Mayor John Scalfie.

Mayor Scalfie, estimated damages, including loss of stock, at approximately $50,000.

The mayor said the fire was believed to have originated from failure of an electrical compressor unit located in the rear of the building. According to the mayor, the fire, which was discovered about 10 p.m., apparently had been smoldering for some time and was well underway when fire units arrived.

The alarm was turned in by W. R. Johnson Jr., who noticed smoke coming from the building.

Fire units from Pass Christian, Long Beach, Piquette and Keesler A.F.B. aided Bay St. Louis firemen in fighting the blaze which threatened to get out of control.

Pass Christian and Long Beach units arrived, the mayor said, at a key moment in the fight to get the fire under control.

When Long Beach unit arrived, the mayor added, the rear of the building was collapsing, but the front was still burning.

Mayor Scalfie was high in his praise of the neighboring fire departments and Lascien Kid, Chief of the Volunteer Fire Department and volunteer firemen, for their wonderful response. Their help is credited with preventing the fire from spreading to adjacent buildings.

Window panes in a residence owned by Spiro and Pie of New Orleans located in the rear of the store were shattered from the intense heat.

Other businesses threatened by the fire were Meyer's Grocery, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vincent, and Benigno's Bar owned by Sam Benigno.

The buildings were separated by fire walls, Mayor Scalfie added.

Charles Thomas, owner of Fayer Drug Store, located near the scene of the fire, removed his prescription stock to a safer area when it seemed the fire would possibly spread to adjoining buildings.

Charles Carter said he had no plans for the immediate future, but he would make a statement sometime soon.

He expressed his thanks to all for the kindnesses extended him and particularly to his many customers for their loyal support in the past.

He is urging all who are eligible for exemption to file as soon as possible. The deadline for applications is June 1.

Mr. Hatzman said that the franchise payments for the last quarter of 1961 had been made earlier, bringing the total for the year to $5,549.55 in Bay St. Louis, and $1,965.55 in Waveland.

THANKS FOR A JOB WELL DONE

Although the fire of last Sunday night, which totally destroyed the building and stock of the C and S Grocery, owned and operated by Charles Carter, Sr., was disastrous enough in that it caused a total damage of approximately $50,000 to stock and building, it could have been far more disastrous.

Had it not been for the immediate response of fire fighters and fire engines from Pass Christian, Long Beach, Keesler AFB, and Picayune there is no doubt in our mind but that the entire block of buildings adjacent to the C and S Grocery, on Blaize Avenue and possibly a number of residences on Keller Street would have been destroyed.

It was the splendid work of these fire fighting units, together with our own Bay St. Louis department, which kept the fierce blaze confined to this one store. Meyers Grocery, on the right and Benigno's Bar, on the left, with only a brick fire wall separating them from the burned out store, were virtually undamaged. This could only be attributed to the wonderful work done by the fire fighters who were handling the hoses.

It is comforting, indeed, to know that we live in an area, where people are so eager and ready to answer a call for help, without a moment's hesitation. On behalf of our community we want to express sincere thanks to those who so readily answered our distress call.

"WE WILL BURY YOU," growled the harsh voice at the other end of the line.

"WHAT?" cried Ed Bryson, hardly believing his ears.

"Your belief in God . . ." the voice went on. . . an out-worn superstition leading to foolish notions about democracy and freedom and human rights. Communism will correct this."

"Who do you think you're talking to?" blustered Ed.

"To you, Mr. Bryson. The Party needs you to liberate your countrymen. Encourage them to forget morality for it is a myth. Conscience, it is cowardice. Worship, it is weakness."

"NO," Ed exploded. "NYET if you understand that better! We aren't going to forget the spiritual principles that make the Free World strong. Our kind of liberty is built on God's Truth—and you'll never bury That. Go sell your party line somewhere else. I'm on my way to Church!"

Of course, it was just a dream, Ed admits. (Too much pie at bedtime.) And, thoughtfully, he adds—it shouldn't take a nightmare to make us realize what we believe—and how to preserve that Faith.

FOR NOTES

The State Forestry Bank, in its first 18 months of operation, approved 104 applications for timber development projects in 50 counties, including one in Hancock County, which is a part of the South East District, where a total of 23 applications has been processed. It was announced today by Russell E. Hobgood, executive director.

"The Forestry Bank is already proving itself a useful agency for small landowners in Mississippi," Hobgood said. "The 104 applications handled thus far have placed 23,341 acres into the program—acres that were wholly or partially idle."

Income from timber off these acres will be approximately $3,000,000 during the next 10 years, he added.

"Using the industrial payroll formula that a new dollar turns over five times before it leaves the community," Hobgood said, "the Forestry Bank's timber development projects in the 50 counties will mean about $15,000,000 to the economy of the state during that 10-year period."

The Forestry Bank was financed by a legislative appropriation of $500,000 during the 1960 session. Approximately one-third of that appropriation has been requested thus far by small landowners unable to obtain private financing for tree planting and timberland improvement.

"By the time the full appropriation has been committed to financing this program, it will put almost one million dollars a year directly into the hands of small landowners," Hobgood asserted. "This is income they would not have received if they had continued to permit their acreage to lie idle and unproductive, and the full impact of this program will be felt."

about $40,000,000 in additional purchasing power injected into the overall economy of Mississippi in the next 10 years."

Forestry Bank funds are repaid by each participating landowner, making the original appropriation operate as a revolving fund. As appropriated funds are repaid, they will be used to service additional applications.

The Forestry Bank also provides professional forestry service in planning, management, and harvesting as part of its program.

Hobgood said, "The Forestry Bank—the only agency of its kind in the nation—has received support and encouragement from bankers, industrialists, professional foresters, and countless others in Mississippi and other states."

"We are using the credit of the state to develop greater timber resources," he said, "just as we use the credit of municipalities or counties in issuing BAWI bonds for developing new industries."

He noted that wood-using industries were particularly encouraged about this program because it gives them assurance that a continuing supply of raw material will be available.

"This, of course, means that the Forestry Bank indirectly helps continue the state's industrial growth by helping small landowners produce raw material to support payroll dollars," he said.

ATLANTA, Ga.—The forests of the South today are growing at a rate one third faster than a generation ago.

This and other new facts about forest development in the South from 1935 to 1960 are contained in a booklet, "Miracle in the Southern Forests," which has just been released by the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association.

Information in the booklet is based on a new interpretation by industrial forest economists of recent government statistics, according to H. J. Malsberger, of Atlanta, general manager of SPCA.

While a tremendous amount of wood has been harvested for conversion into thousands of products since 1935, the report said, the South still has more trees than it did a quarter of a century ago.

This "miracle" has occurred, it was noted, largely through the efforts of professional foresters, including pulp and paper industry foresters and state and federal government foresters.

These men, the booklet said, "sought out the nearly two million private landowners in the South to urge wise management of existing forest lands and planting of trees on idle lands."

Among the specific results of these cooperative efforts over a 25-year period were (1) the conversion of more than nine million acres of idle land into profitable forests; (2) development of cooperative forest fire control, by state and federal agencies, which today covers 9.5 acres out of every 10 acres in the South, and (3) development of a multi-billion dollar pulp and paper industry.

Forestry research, the booklet said, has also been a part of this "miracle," and "it will be even more important tomorrow." It was pointed out, for example, that improved strains of trees are being developed. They will have such qualities as a greater immunity to disease and insect attack, the ability to grow to usable size faster, and a greater yield of wood fiber per cubic foot.

Today, the report said further, the South leads the world in the production of pulpwood, and as for the future: "The South's new economy of the forest is secure in the hands of the 'miracle-makers'—in partnership with nature, supported by a stable and ever-growing pulp and paper industry, to meet the needs of a growing population."

Lt. Gov. Jaul Johnson, who has predicted new taxes would be needed, issued a brief statement saying only that Barnett's views deserved sincere and impartial study.

Lawmakers who disagreed with Barnett's conclusions said privately that they felt his estimates of expected revenues from present taxes were too high.

Barnett told a joint session Tuesday he expected to balance a $284 million budget with $280 million in tax revenues, $9 million from the treasury surplus and $24 million in new money. He said the total would leave enough for a $9 million teacher pay raise.

The new money would include: From the State Veterans Farm and Home Board $9 million as repayment of $10 million given the board to begin operations in 1945.

From collecting the sales tax at both wholesale and retail levels $8 million.

Mixed Reaction Greet Barnett's Fund Proposal

JACKSON, Miss.—Mixed reaction greeted Gov. Ross Barnett's proposals for raising $24 million without new taxes, ranging from public praise to bitter private comments.

House speaker Walter Sillers of Bolivar County called Barnett's position "most interesting and encouraging" but said he did not agree altogether with the policy of no new taxes.

Sillers called for a cautious approach to the fiscal situation and suggested raising taxes on liquor dealers operating in this dry state.

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

Have you decided to participate in the 1962 farm program for corn and grain sorghum producers?

By cooperating, you can help out the surplus of feed grains, get returns on retired acreage, and qualify for price support.

The signing period begins February 5, and ends March 30. The first step is to give your county ASCS office an acreage report, unless this was done under the 1961 program. This report must include the acreage and crops on the farm in 1959 and 1960.

The County ASC committee will establish a base for each farm. If a farmer grew only corn the base will be determined from that crop. If he grew corn and grain sorghum then the base will be determined from both.

When the base is determined, the ASCS committee will send this information to each farmer.

and much to be done. At the same time, the State Forestry Bank is already proving itself a useful agency for small landowners in Mississippi.

After these facts, the farmer will be responsible for the following:

1. Diverting from corn and grain sorghum the amount of acres indicated on the tabulation to participate form.

2. Increasing acreage of land in conservation use, as called for by the diversion.

3. Not exceeding barley feed grain base (except certain producers of malting barley).

4. Not exceeding the corn and grain sorghum feed grain base and the barley feed grain base on all other farms in which a farmer shares these crops.

POULTRY MANAGEMENT

Keep that poultry house dry. Check the roof for leaks. Don't let snow, sleet or cold rain blow in; build up the floor. You might try ditching around the house for drainage, then check around waterers for leaks.

Keep the water flowing into the poultry house. Bury pipes and wrap risers. Keep check on your water pump—don't let it freeze. Make sure that your birds have plenty of water and feed at all times.

PASTURE JOBS

Get ready for spring planting now. Prepare land as soon as it is dry enough for setting of Coastal, planting common Bermuda, Bahiá grass and lespedeza. A firm seedbed is a must.

Check your seed supply. Have a germination test on all seed and check your lespedeza seed especially for dodder content. Locate your supply of Coastal Bermuda sprigs.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

Mrs. Homemaker, are you paying for extra features on your range and never using them? If you are wasting money.

When selecting a range, investigate all models and features. Next evaluate your family's needs.

If you are active outside the home, you and your family may benefit from the automatic oven clock. If you entertain frequently, a bigger meal to fit varying family hours, the new low-temperature control that keeps foods warm for hours without further cooking is the greatest thing since the coal stove. Without such devices, it counts little.

BE CAREFUL WITH CREDIT. Many families, especially young families, use credit these days. They use it to increase earnings and pay for houses, cars and other things they need.

Wise use of credit can contribute to a high standard of living. The other hand, misuse and overuse of credit can lead to worries and financial difficulties.

Using credit wisely calls for reliable information about it plus thinking and intelligent decisions. Credit costs money, and you want to be sure that the costs are worth the benefits you receive.

First of all, even before you figure costs and compare benefit, be sure your financial situation justifies use of credit. To use credit wisely, you must be able to plan how you are going to make payments.

A reliable lender doesn't let you have credit unless he knows that your financial situation justifies it. Beware of those lending agencies that are not interested in how much you make or already owe. Their interest rates are generally very high.

High interest rates add to your purchases and can lead to money worries. Paying high interest rates keeps you from buying as many other things as you could otherwise.

If you are not able to make payments when due, you will usually have to extend the payment period of the loan and so have to pay interest over a longer time. You also build up a poor credit rating that may follow you for years and keep you from borrowing for a new house or some thing else really important in the future.

A GOOD BREAKFAST TO BEGIN DAY

Breakfast—just as the name implies—breaks the long fast of the night and comes at a time when your body needs some of all the essential nutrients.

A good breakfast supplies a third to a fourth of the foods we need each day. If you skip or skimp on this first meal of the day, you lose nutrients that you need and that are not supplied in other meals of the day.

The pattern for breakfast that fills the food needs for most people includes these five foods: fruit, a protein food, bread, butter or margarine and a beverage.

You and all members of your family start the day off right with a good breakfast. Avoid the mid-morning slump.

MANY SOILS NEED MORE BORON FOR GOOD COTTON CROP

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—A deficiency of boron is reducing cotton yields on many Mississippi farms, according to Experiment Station agronomists. Dr. J. D. Lancaster, of Mississippi State University, and agronomists at six of the branch Experiment Stations in the state, have recently reported results of an extensive study of the subject.

In summary, Dr. Lancaster said: "On the basis of recent experiments as well as observations of severe boron deficiency in many farm fields, it is now recommended that cotton in the hill sections of Mississippi be fertilized with boron. Boron fertilization may also prove beneficial in the Delta foothills especially after application of lime to light-textured soils."

"Cotton may be fertilized with boron: (1) by applying a boric acid fertilizer; (2) by making 5 to 7 foliar applications of 0.1 pound of boron each (one-half pound of Solubor, a highly soluble boric fertilizer) at regular intervals during the fruiting period; (3) by direct application of 0.5 pound of boron (2.5 lbs. of Solubor) to the soil.

To obtain uniform distribution with direct application the Solubor should be dissolved in water and sprayed on the soil either before or after seed bed preparation. Equipment for application of insecticides and herbicides may be used to spray on solutions of boric fertilizers."

Details of the recommendation and precautions are reported in the January issue of Mississippi Farm Research available on request from the Experiment Station at State College.

Applications Being Made Now For Miss. So. Summer Theatre

HATTIESBURG, Miss.—Applications are now being accepted for the 1962 season of the Mississippi Southern College Summer Theatre, according to Robert M. Treiser, Director of Theatre.

A limited number of applicants will be selected to participate in the program, in which they can earn college credit while gaining the experience of working in an operating Summer Stock Theatre.

Students accepted for the program and successfully completing it will receive 16 quarter hours credit, either graduate or undergraduate, from Mississippi Southern College. This credit which is accepted toward graduation from Southern, and is transferable to the school of the student's choice. Many people participate, however, who are not interested in college credit.

The 11-week program begins on June 5 and continues through August 15, with the first three weeks spent in getting acquainted, taking intensive courses in such areas as acting, stagecraft, lighting, box office management and makeup, and otherwise preparing for the actual production period. There will be seven productions presented during a seven-week period, with each running for five nights—Tuesday through Saturday.

Mississippi Economic Gains In 1961 Paced by Oil and Gas Industry

HOPE FOR GIANT CHEMICAL COMPLEX RIDES ON NEW GULF COAST REFINERY, PIPE LINES, GROWING PRODUCTION

Jackson, Miss. (Special)—The exploration, drilling, production, pipe line and processing segments of the oil and gas industry led a quickening Mississippi economic development pace in the year just ended, pouring a record-setting $155 million into the state's economic bloodstream.

Industry spokesman E. D. Kenna summarized the newly-available 1961 figures as follows: RECORD $155 MILLION Drilling 563 wells in Mississippi—45 gas wells, 198 oil wells and 320 dry holes—required an expenditure for materials and services of $70 million.

Royalty, the landowner's share of oil and gas production, totalled more than $23 million. 1961 oil production was five per cent above 1960; gas production was up six per cent.

Lease rentals and bonuses paid to landowners in 1961 totalled about $15 million. Twelve million acres—roughly one-third of the state's total area—was productive or under lease.

The total tax revenue to the state and local governments from 1961 oil and gas industry activity will total $22 million. Nearly half of this comes from severance taxes, which are shared by the state and producing counties. Oil severance in 1961 was $9,067,000; gas severance $1,887,308 for a total of $10,954,308. Both gained over 1960.

The oil and gas industry remained the largest ad valorem taxpayer in the state. Assessed valuation of oil, gas and product pipe lines by 81 of the state's 82 counties was a record $157.4 million, up more than $3.3 million over 1960 valuations.

More than 5,000 exploration-production, pipe line and processing employees in Mississippi earned $25 million in wages and salaries in 1961.

HIG 1962 GAINS FORECAST

The Standard Oil (Kentucky) Company's refinery now under construction on the Gulf Coast will give the entire state's economy a shot-in-the-arm in 1962. The investment in the refinery, plus new pipe lines and attendant facilities, will total near $150 million. Construction payroll alone will exceed $40 million over 1962 and 1963.

CHEMICAL COMPLEX NOW POSSIBLE

Oil industry spokesman Kenna, who has assisted Governor Barnett and the state's industrial development personnel in a series of plant-hunting contacts with major oil and chemical companies, points out that Mississippi's hopes of seeing a great petrochemical complex built within her borders depends not only upon the new 100,000 barrel-per-day refinery but also upon the prior existence and continued healthy growth of the state's oil and gas industry—whose producing wells and network of pipe lines must feed raw materials and refined products to the hoped-for chemical plants.

LEGISLATION ASKED

To stimulate the healthy growth of Mississippi oil and gas production, as well as to make possible more effective conservation practices, Kenna says the vast majority of oil and gas interests in the state—major companies, smaller firms and individual producers—have joined through their trade association in asking the 1962 Legislature to enact an up-to-date "unitization" law.

Kenna explains that such a law, as utilized by Oklahoma, Arkansas and other producing states, would provide the legal procedure for pooling interests

Hope for a petrochemical "complex" rides on a healthy oil and gas industry, pipe lines, new $125 million refinery.

Mississippi's 1961 oil production was up 5%; gas 6%. Drilling attempts totalled 563, cost $70 million.

Loading ad valorem taxpayer: pipe line traversing 81 of 82 counties. 1961 assessed valuation: $157 million.

in an oil or gas field under State Oil and Gas Board regulation.

Under "unit operation," an oil or gas reservoir is developed and managed as a single "production machine," with modern engineering techniques making possible the recovery of a much greater portion of the oil or gas in the ground.

Passage of this law in 1962 will add impetus to the immediate and long-range growth of Mississippi's economy, asserts the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association officer.

More Good Economic Growth

Mississippi's industrial economy continues at a steady and healthy growth. This is a pleasing prospect and should be gratifying to the many groups and local areas who work so hard to attain and then keep their payroll producers. Significantly, a wide variety of industries find the state receptive to needs and the ready and willing market of workers.

Victor Herbert Music Given Modern Touch In "Babes In Toyland"

Although the score for Walt Disney's first live-action motion picture musical, "Babes In Toyland," is chiefly composed of Victor Herbert's unforgettable melodies, Disney has added touches of his own to the marvelous array of tunes. Starting Thursday, February 8th, at Legion Theatre, Gulfport.

To Disney's staff composer-conductor George Bruns went the assignment of adapting the entire score. This required changing the tempo of many tunes, making new arrangements, turning certain themes into complete songs, and finally writing three brand new numbers to fit situations in the screenplay that would musically match the rest of the Herbert score.

A new libretto and lyrics were supplied by Mel Leven and a screenplay was written by Joe Rinaldi, Ward Kimball and Lowell S. Hawley.

Songs retained from the original Victor Herbert score include "I Can't Be the Sun," "Just a Toy," "Floretta," "Castle in Spain," "We Won't Be Happy Till We Get It," "Lemonade," "Just a Whisper Away," "March of the Toys" and the perennial favorite, "Toyland."

The new numbers, with music by Bruns and lyrics by Leven, are "The Workshop Song," "The Forest of No Return" and "Slowly He Sank Into the Sea."

In color by Technicolor, Babes in Toyland stars Ray Bolger, Tommy Sands, Annette and Ed Wynn, and co-stars Tommy Kirk, Kevin Corcoran, Henry Calvin, Gene Sheldon, Mary McCarty, Ann Jillian and Brian Corcoran. Jack Donohue directed for Buena Vista release.

JANET RAY SHAW

Janet Ray Shaw is winner in our school in the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. She achieved the highest score in the examination on home-making knowledge and attitudes taken by senior girls Dec. 5. She becomes eligible now along with winners in other state high schools, for the title of State Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The girl named State Homemaker of Tomorrow is provided a $1,500 scholarship by General Mills, sponsor of the program. The state runner-up will receive a $500 scholarship.

In addition, the State Homemaker of Tomorrow and her school advisor will join with other state winners in an expense-paid educational tour of New York City Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. At the latter, the 1962 all-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named.

The national winner will have her scholarship raised to $5,000 with second, third, and fourth place winners being granted scholarships of $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

The knowledge and attitude test, prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago, is the basis for selection of local and state winners with personal observation and interviews serving as factors in national judging.

The 1962 Betty Crocker Search reached another all-time high in enrollment with 406,132 girls in 2,789 schools participating. The program is now in its eighth year. By the end of this year, more than two and a half million girls will have participated and scholarship awards will have totaled more than three quarters of a million dollars.
